FOREWARD

One significant way in which educators can contribute to the development and reinforcement of a positive self image in minority children, develop for all groups greater understanding and appreciation of many different cultures, and foster intergroup understanding and cooperation in the community at large is through awareness of interethnic/multiracial/nonsexist materials and encouragement of their use. As many of you know, N.J.A.C. 6:4-13e states that each Board of Education is to "adopt and approve courses of study, instructional materials, and programs designed to eliminate discrimination and promote understanding and mutual respect between children of different races, colors, creeds, religions, sexes, ancestries, national origins, or social or economic status." The Title 6:4 regulations also require that districts supplement those materials and courses not meeting the regulation's objectives.

Resources for Nonsexist/Interethnic/Multiracial Education has been compiled to assist districts in finding print and non-print materials to use with students and staff. This resource book is divided into three major sections: Interethnic/Multiracial Materials, Nonsexist Materials and Publishers' Addresses. The first two sections are annotated lists of materials; the last gives the names and addresses of their publishers. An asterisk next to the audiovisual materials indicates that item is available on loan from OEEO.

This book can be used by affirmative action officers, bilingual coordinators, curriculum supervisors, department chairpersons, librarians and media specialists, classroom teachers and other personnel involved in the selection and use of instructional materials. The OEEO resource center has copies of many of the print materials. If you are interested in visiting the center, please call Ms. Pam Leggio, Assistant Director for National Origin Desegregation at (609) 984-5976 to set up a mutually convenient appointment. Additional copies of this publication can also be obtained by completing the form at the back of this book and mailing to OEEO. You are welcome to reproduce this resource book.
